

Islamic Adab for Little Muslims

Adab 10: Respect Your Parents

A sweet lesson for ages 3-5

Love them. Listen to them. Speak kindly.

Love Your Parents

Allah loves kind children

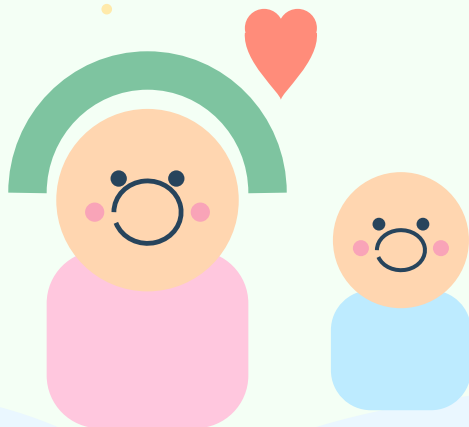

A Big Gift From Allah

Your parents love you and take care of you.

They feed you, hug you, teach you, and help you every day.

So we respect them, listen to them, and speak to them with kind words.

When we are kind to our parents, Allah is pleased with us.

Say:

"I love you!"

with a happy smile

Good Ways to Respect Parents

Three little manners

1

Listen when they speak

Use your ears and your heart.

2

Say kind words

Soft words make hearts happy.

3

Help them

Small help can bring big reward.

Kind child = happy home

A Little Story

Amina helps her mama

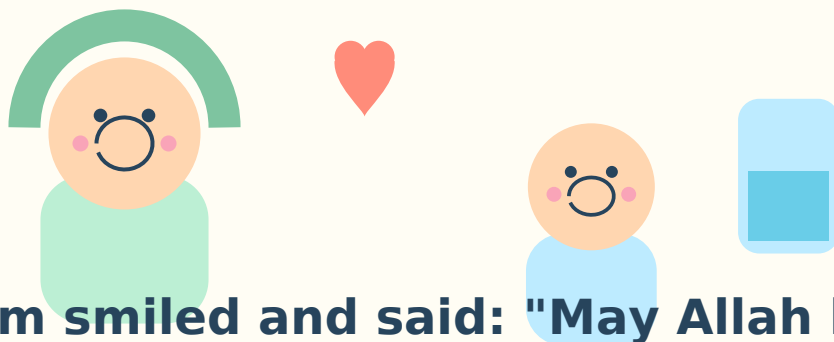

Little Amina

Little Amina was playing with her blocks.

Her mom asked her:
"Can you bring me water?"

Amina quickly said:
"Yes, mama!"

She brought the water with a smile.

Her mom smiled and said: "May Allah bless you."

Speak Kindly

Use gentle words

Please

when you ask

Thank you

when they help

Sorry

when you make a mistake

Yes, mama

with respect

Yes, baba

with love

Soft words are sadaqah-like kindness

They make your family smile and your heart shine.

Let us Practice!

Try these today

Listen to your parents

Help them

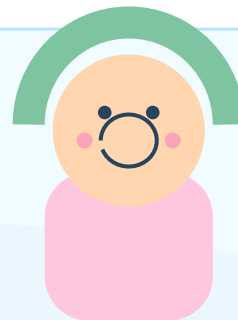

Speak kindly

Say: "JazakAllah khair"

Make dua for them

Remember

Allah loves good children

Respect your parents

- Listen with your ears.
- Answer with kind words.
- Help with happy hands.
- Smile with love.

Allah loves good children

who are kind to their parents.

My Kindness Chart

Color a heart each time you help

Today I can...

Bring water

Put toys away

Say please

Give a hug

Make dua

Be kind. Be helpful. Please Allah.