

Allah Made the Sky!

A peaceful lesson for little ones (Ages 3-5)

Big Idea

Allah made the sky.

Heart Goal

The child feels wonder and calm when looking at the world Allah made.

Lesson Objective

The child notices the sky and connects it to Allah's creation in a simple and joyful way.

Language Focus: SubhanAllah

Story Time with Maryam

One morning, Maryam went outside with her teacher . The air felt fresh. The light was soft. Maryam looked up.

She saw the big blue sky above her .

"It is so big," she said.

Her teacher smiled and asked, "Who made the sky?"

Maryam looked up again.

"The sky is high," her teacher said. "It is wide and beautiful.

Allah made the sky." ✨

Maryam kept looking. She saw white clouds floating slowly . She saw birds flying . She felt small, but happy.

"Allah made the sky," she repeated softly.

Her teacher nodded. "Yes. When we see something beautiful that Allah made, we can say, 'SubhanAllah.'"

Maryam smiled and said, "SubhanAllah."

She looked up one more time. The sky was still wide and still beautiful.

Then she whispered, "Allah made the sky." 🌤️

Talk Together

- What do you see above you?
- Who made the sky?
- What can we say when we see something beautiful?

Let's Say It!

"Allah made the sky."

Tiny Dua

SubhanAllah.

Practice Today

Look at the sky for a few seconds and say:

"SubhanAllah. Allah made the sky."

Teacher/Parent Note:

This lesson should feel peaceful. Slow the child down. Let them look, notice, and wonder. Let the spaciousness of the sky reflect the greatness of its Creator.
